Welcome to the World of Matchbox® Collectibles

PLATINUM EDITIONS

The next few pages will introduce you to our products and marketing programs. You'll learn how your store can become a profitable part of the ever-growing world of Matchbox® Collectibles.

First, a Brief History

Matchbox began in 1947 when two former English schoolmates began producing die-cast toys in London. Their first major success came in 1953 when they introduced a miniature royal coach drawn by eight tiny horses. This unique product sold over 1 million units and firmly established the company as a producer of finely detailed die-cast miniatures.

Another milestone came in 1956 when Matchbox created its "Models of Yesteryear" series. For the first time, the company recognized the strong popularity of nostalgic automobiles and trucks. The public's widely held interest in classic vehicles continues today, and many of the company's present-day production is of bygone vehicles that remind their owners of simpler times.

Matchbox continued to grow in Europe during the 1960's and became a stronger American brand in 1971 when the firm built its first factory in the United States. In 1983, with its toys now firmly established in America, Matchbox was purchased by a Hong Kong company and renamed Matchbox International. Within three short years, the new company was selling vehicles in 120 countries and was the number one brand in Europe.

The Matchbox line gained even more strength during the 1990's. In 1997, 50 years after the two founding schoolmates produced their first toys, Matchbox was acquired by toy giant, Mattel, Inc. Now, the same marketing tools behind Barbie® doll and See 'N Say® products were suddenly available to Matchbox, the granddaddy of die-cast-vehicle manufacturers.

Today, Matchbox and Mattel invite you to capture your share of the ever-growing Matchbox collectibles business.

Matchbox® Collectibles: Upscale Models for Adult Collectors

Make no mistake. The detailed Matchbox Collectibles available to your store are quite different from the small, low-cost Matchbox models mass-marketed to children. Your models, which we call "Platinum Editions," feature superior levels of detailing and decoration, a high number of quality parts, and all-die-cast chassis. In addition, each "Platinum Edition" vehicle is sold with a certificate of authenticity in an elegant collector box.

Limited Editions: Promoting Value and Collectability

Special limited-edition models are an important segment of our Matchbox Collectibles product line. These models, capturing the evolution of the transportation age, are highly prized by collectors throughout the world.

Each limited-edition model comes packaged in a special maroon box featuring attractive gold lettering. A Certificate of Authenticity provides fascinating details about the original, life-size vehicle, typically noting engine size, options available, production quantities, and original sticker price. In addition, the Certificate indicates the maximum number of miniature models that Matchbox will produce. As you will soon discover, all of these elements add value and collectability to your Matchbox limited-edition inventory.

From legendary muscle cars to horse-drawn wagons, Matchbox limited-edition collections mirror nearly every step in the evolution of transportation. Collectors will return to your store again and again to acquire each piece of their favorite collections.

A Quick Guide to Understanding and Merchandising Your Matchbox® Product: The "Big 5" Categories

PLATINUM EDITIONS

The growing pool of Matchbox sku's is divided into 5 simple categories. Shipping cartons, individual packages, sales sheets, order forms, and even invoices are specially marked according to these categories, making it easy for you to sort, display, and inventory your Matchbox shipments.

As you meet and serve new Matchbox customers, you'll become familiar with the many different vehicles encompassed by our "Big 5" categories. Here's a brief listing of each category and the types of vehicles it contains:

1. Emergency (fire, police, military, and other civil-service vehicles)
2. Workhorses (vintage trucks)
3. Automobilia (classic cars of the 20th century)
4. Licenses (vehicles decorated with world-famous images and trademarks)
5. Hi-Beam (the Matchbox spotlight on Limited Editions and retired pieces)

Your local sales representative will fully explain the details of the "Big 5" program. Please schedule time with your rep so that he or she can assist you in setting up your display case and a portion of your stock room according to the "Big 5" plan. For help from our national Customer Support team in Glendale, Arizona, please phone 1-888-634-9208.

Three Dealership Levels: Choose the Program that Suits You Best

Begin your Matchbox Collectibles business with a program that's sized right for your store. Choose from three programs, each offering a different volume of initial product.

- Gran Prix Dealerships are recommended for high-volume gift and collectible shops. Initial shipment includes 287 pieces selected from all of the "Big 5" categories. Numerous factory extras include first-priority ordering of limited editions and retired pieces, first priority on customer referral lists, priority shipping (usually within 72 hours), our new training video and manual, and a high to extra-high product-offset with your required purchase of our regular or deluxe display case.
- Le Mans Dealerships are recommended for stores with medium to high traffic volume. Initial shipment includes 224 pieces chosen from all of the "Big 5" categories. Factory extras include second priority on customer referrals, the new training video and manual, and a medium to high product-offset with your required purchase of either the regular or deluxe display case.
- Authorized Dealerships are perfect for seasonal and vacation retail outlets. Initial shipment includes 104 pieces. Factory extras include the new training video and manual and a significant product-offset with an optional purchase of either display case.

For a full description of the benefits of each program, please see the materials accompanying this catalog.

Show Off Your Vehicles in One of Our Elegant Display Cases

There's no better way to exhibit the fine detail and craftsmanship of Matchbox vehicles. Both the extra-large Gran Prix case and the more compact Hexagon case allow your customers to admire your Matchbox vehicles from multiple angles.

An internally lighted Matchbox case will allow your customers to freely examine all of the beauty and craftsmanship of their favorite Matchbox collections. The result: the fastest possible turnover of your Matchbox Collectibles inventory.

1957 Chevy Collection

Automotive history buffs will tell you that 1957 was the best year ever. Chevrolet led the way with the most impressive lineup. The '57 Chevy Bel Air is the most coveted car of all time. The '57 Corvette offered "one horsepower for every cubic inch!" The Nomad was the ultimate family wagon. And the '57 pickup was at home on the range and at the hardware store. Now you can acquire a collection of all these classics—including two '57 Chevy Bel Airs—a ragtop and a hardtop.

Automobilia American Muscle Cars II

The formula was simple: take a normal car and drop in the biggest engine you make. You'll not only make your presence felt on the Nascar circuit, but you'll sell a lot of cars to Americans who crave muscular styling and sheer power. The formula worked, of course, and the result was a generation of some of the greatest cars ever to cruise down Main Street or tear up a drag strip. Now you can have the muscle cars everyone remembers for the roar of their monstrous engines, the thunder of their open exhaust pipes and the beauty of their sculptured bodies and daring graphics.

Automobilia Cars of the Rich & Infamous

Matchbox Collectibles has captured six coveted classics as stylish and powerful as the nefarious men who drove them. This collection includes the 1930 Duesenberg Model J, by far the fastest car of its day with its 265 horsepower engine. The splendid 1937 Cord Viton, the perfect vehicle for impressing a moll or outrunning the feds. And the 1933 Cadillac V-16, the 6,270 pound heavyweight that didn't even break a sweat at 90 mph. Six Cars of the Rich & Infamous. Crafted to capture all the details that made them classics.

Automobilia Corvette Collection

The National Corvette Museum commissioned Matchbox Collectibles to create this official, first-of-its-kind collection. It captures the six body designs that have shaped Corvette's glorious history. Beginning with the original—the '53 Corvette—this collection takes you right up to the ground-breaking 1997 model, the car that has set the standard for the next century. Each model is crafted to unprecedented standards—from the scalloped sides of the '57 Vette...to the luxurious interior of the 1993 40th anniversary edition.

Automobilia Stars of the Silver Screen

The 1953 Buick Skylark was introduced to beat off the competition from the Cadillac Eldorado and Oldsmobile Fiesta. The Skylark had a huge 322 cubic inch V8 engine—fewer than 1700 of these cars were produced. The 1956 Chevrolet Corvette was originally conceived to defeat the invasion of European sports cars which followed soon after WWII. It became the most successful sports car ever produced by Detroit. The 1957 Chevrolet Convertible: Just as its full size counterpart became “hot property”—so too will this authentically Chevy Bel Air convertible with its classic 50’s styling.

Emergency Ambulance Series I

The Red Cross has protected the brave men and women who have brought comfort to people at home and abroad since 1863. Now those nations with highly active Red Cross societies are honored with a collection of early ambulances. They include America's famed 1912 Ford Model T, the 1947 Citroën H Van of France and Germany's 1959 Mercedes-Benz L408. Crafted to capture the original vehicle in all its authentic detail, each die-cast model is decorated with the country's official Red Cross ambulance graphics from each era, including the identification numbers on the side.

Emergency International Fire Engine Collection: Series I

From the '20s to the '40s, companies that specialized in fire fighting apparatus and manufacturers of the world's great automobiles produced effective fire engines. They included innovative designs for fighting blazes in tall buildings, as well as simple adaptations of existing trucks for quick response to fires. Today, five of the most important fire trucks from this golden era have been re-created in the only die-cut collection of its kind. Each model in the collection is so faithful to the original that it has been approved for historical accuracy by experts at the Fire Brigade Society.

Emergency International Fire Engine Collection: Series II

It was the Golden Age of Fire Fighting. From the looming ladders that rescued people from tall buildings...to the support vehicles that carried extra water, hoses and searchlights, the world's finest manufacturers of fire fighting equipment created one innovation after another. Now, twelve of the most important vehicles have been recaptured in all their glory. Each is a masterwork of die-cast engineering, crafted with all the gleaming gauges and apparatus found on the originals. Then entire collection is authenticated for historical accuracy by the Brigade Society of Manchester, England.

Emergency International Fire Engine Collection: Series III

These vintage vehicles helped fire fighters do their jobs every bit as much as the fire engines themselves. The '53 Ford F-100 pickup often arrived at the nick of time carrying hoses and other apparatus. The Citroën Type H Van was outfitted to enable the firemen of Longueville, France to transport the extra ladders that were essential in battling big fires. Five models in all, representing the most diverse assembly of fire fighting support vehicles ever developed by world class truck and automakers.

Emergency International Fire Engine Collection: Series IV

The first gas-powered fire engine ever used in the U.S.—the 1916 Ford Model T—is recaptured with its hose running all around the vehicle, its tool box on the side and its chrome-finished and painted wheels. One of the first fire engines ever created by Mack is back—complete with its vacuum bladder, pumping system and fire extinguisher. The 1907 Seagrave AC53, which extinguished fires with chemicals, comes equipped with photo-etched screen doors that open to reveal its intricate engine. Each replica in this fascinating collection recreates one of the most famous fire fighting vehicles in history. And each is crafted to the highest level of die-cast engineering—with functional opening compartments and all the hoses, pumps, gauges, horns and lanterns found on the originals.

Emergency International Fire Engine Collection: Series V

The US Forest Service needed a truck that could prevent a brush fire from destroying valuable wilderness. The Royal navy needed a four-wheel drive rescue vehicle that could respond to any emergency...anywhere. And America's Civil Defense department required a vehicle that could rescue citizens from every disaster, especially a fiery inferno. Now they're back. Six specialized fire fighters in all. Each recaptured in a replica that raises the benchmark for authenticity and precise detail.

Emergency International Fire Engine Collection: Series VI

In the first half of the 20th century, truck manufacturers worked with fire departments all over the world to customize vehicles for specialized fire fighting challenges. In 1932, a Mercedes was equipped with five spotlights on its roof to illuminate remote areas at night. And, in the late '40s, a Dodge Power Wagon would navigate to a remote brush fire while its companion—a GMC tanker— would be ready to supply the Power Wagon more water. Now these ingenious fire fighting specialists are back—in a collection of six replicas as fascinating as the originals.

Emergency Vintage City Police

When their sirens blare and lights flash, America's police are often chasing danger. From the turn-of-the-century to modern times, they have brought countless bank robbers, bootleggers, mobsters, drug smugglers and other lawbreakers to justice. And they have used a wide variety of vehicles, customizing them to keep pace with well-financed criminals. Now Matchbox Collectibles traces 50 years of the history of police vehicles with a collection of die-cast models distinguished by the emblems of six great police departments.

Hi-Beam Great Tanks of World War II

For the first couple years, it looked like tyranny would win. The German war machine crushed Allied forces with a seemingly invincible force of armored warriors. But then, the Allies—led by America—rose to the challenge, developing advanced artillery and tanks that stopped the Germans in their tracks.

Own the eight greatest tanks of World War II. Each captured in a die-cast model that has been sculpted, machined, cast and crafted to depict precise historic detail.

Hi-Beam Military Planes

This collection honors some of the greatest fighter planes ever, including the legendary Mustang and Hellcat. It captures the planes that played a pivotal role in major battles like D-Day. And it pays tribute to heroes like Pappy Boyington in his Corsair Navy fighter...and Captain Brian Lane of the British Air Force who flew his Spitfire through flak-filled skies at the Battle of Britain. Each die-cast model is entirely accurate—down to the official markings... and the wear and tear! The pilot inside is dressed just the way he was for battle. And the propellers on each die-cast actually turn.

Hi-Beam U.S. Postal Service Vehicles

In 1912, the Post Office was like a bank, enabling Americans to save for the future with the Postal Savings System. Mail was often delivered in a 1912 Ford Model T Postal Truck bearing the famous U.S. Army poster with Uncle Sam saying "I Want You." And now this classic delivery vehicle of the World War I era is captured in one of six die-cast replicas in the only Matchbox collection ever authorized by the U.S. Postal Service (USPS). Each model captures a pivotal moment in USPS history.

Licenses Budweiser Holiday Tractor Trailer

In 1933, August A. Busch, Jr., gave his father a pair of magnificent Clydesdales from Bavaria to celebrate the end of Prohibition. For generations, these stately steeds have performed brilliantly in Budweiser's famous holiday advertising, becoming a living symbol of the century-old Anheuser-Busch heritage. Once again, these majestic horses pull a vintage Budweiser delivery wagon loaded with Christmas trees—an unforgettable scene captured on the sides of a tractor trailer.

This proud tribute to the world's #1 beer is crafted to the high standards of Anheuser-Busch by Matchbox, the leader in die-cast collectibles. It takes 25 separate applications to get every color just right. The cab pulling the trailer is an intricate replica of a Peterbilt, one of the greatest rigs of all time. The trailer lifts off the cab and can be "parked" in retractable legs....and the rear trailer doors open and close.

Licenses Budweiser Sports Cars

Budweiser and Anheuser-Busch encourage athletes to catch the big prize...bowl a perfect game...and score a hole-in-one. Now this sporting tradition is captured in a collection of die-cast classics decorated with logos specially created to honor Anheuser-Busch's support of virtually every sport. The Bud Light "Rodeo" Mustang is ridden by a bronco bustin' cowboy. The Budweiser "Fly Fishing" Barracuda is decorated with a spectacular gamefish. And the Budweiser "Bowling" Bug show some dynamic pin action. Six popular sports...six great American cars—all crafted to the standards that have made Matchbox Collectibles the collector's favorite.

Beefeater Tractor Trailer

Matchbox honors the 19th century heritage of Beefeater—the only international dry gin still made in London—with an authentic replica of a cab-over Freightliner. Discover the cab that tilts forward to reveal the engine and diesel fuel tanks. Examine every rivet, step and chromed handle and the two horns and five lights on top of the cab. Decorated with two Beefeaters on each side, scenes from the Tower of London, the British flag and the Beefeater banner, the trailer can stand alone on its retractable wheels.

Campbell's Vintage Tractor Trailer

In 1897, Dr. John Dorrance invented condensed soup, propelling Campbell's to a dominant position. Ever since then, collectibles bearing authentic Campbell's graphics have been as hot as a bowl of Campbell's Soup! And now, you can acquire a masterful die-cast rig crafted by Matchbox, another company known for its rare combination of quality and exceptional value. This die-cast Tractor Trailer is decorated with authentic Campbell's graphics from the '30s—the familiar red-and-white color combination and logo on the sides of the trailer. The rear doors open and close. The trailer lifts off the cab and can be "parked" on retractable legs. And the cab is an intricate replica of a 1939 Peterbilt—with a pivoting fifth wheel, a horn on the roof and chrome-finished grille and exhausts.

Licenses Coke Caravan Tractor Trailer

Aside from its delicious taste, another reason for the success of COCA-COLA has been its distinctive advertising, featuring original illustrations by renowned artists—including the famous COCA-COLA Santa by Haddon Sundblom. Widely regarded as the only true Santa, this timeless portrayal appeared on the COCA-COLA Holiday Caravan tractor trailer. Now recreated in all its glory by Matchbox Collectibles—with the COCA-COLA Santa painted on both sides of the cab and trailer - and even on the rear doors! The die-cast trailer is pulled by the die-cast replica of a cab made by Peterbilt, the renowned big rig manufacturer. This model is crafted to capture the intricate engineering of a full-size rig with chrome-finished grille, horns, exhaust pipes, whip antennae, air intakes, diesel tanks-and all 18 wheels!

Coke Vintage Tractor Trailer

In the '50s, America bopped to the sounds of rock 'n' roll...COCA COLA® was the ultimate thirst quencher...and kids all over the world discover Matchbox. Now the spirit of that unforgettable era is captured in a die-cast tractor trailer, crafted in the style of the times...and decorated with vintage '50s advertising from COCA-COLA—directly from the COKE archives.

Distinguished by deco-style decoration on its curved front, the trailer is decorated with the SPRITE Boy, whose bright smile reflected the euphoric post-war mood of America—and the spirit of COCA-COLA®—IN THE '40S AND '50s.

There's also the contour bottle...and the COCA-COLA® slogan of the time: "Work refreshed." The rear doors carry the famous "Drink COCA-COLA...Pause Refresh" theme...and they open and close. The trailer lifts off the authentic replica of a legendary Peterbilt cab, complete with glittering chrome-finished detailing, including the exhaust and horns on the roof.

Licenses Hershey's Vintage Tractor Trailer

More than a century ago, Milton Hershey returned to his home town in the heart of Pennsylvania and began building what is now the world's largest chocolate factory. He created the classic HERSHEY'S® Milk Chocolate Bar. And today, Matchbox Collectibles takes you back to Hershey's early days with a die-cast tractor trailer bearing vintage images straight from the Hershey Archives. The sides of the trailer are decorated with "the baby in the cocoa pod"-a company trademark for 60 years-and the HERSHEY'S cow, both symbols of the freshness of HERSHEY'S chocolate. The rear doors of the trailer open and close...and the trailer lifts off the fifth wheel platform of the cab and can be "parked" on its retractable legs. The cab is a masterful replica of a 1939 Peterbilt, crafted to capture such authentic details as the emblem on the nose of the hood and the chrome-finished horn on the roof. It's the sweetest die-cast model ever.

Licenses International Workhorses

Matchbox pays tribute to five Pioneers of Progress—including companies that made America great—in a collection of vintage replicas. Each bears the authentic graphics of the era—including the distinctive GWR emblem from 1931 on the doors of the Scammell...the 1933 Caterpillar logo on the Diamond T truck...and the industrial strength 1948 U.S. Steel lettering on the mighty GMC truck. This is the only collection of its kind ever authorized by these five industrial giants... and the vehicles' manufacturers.

Jack Daniel's Tractor Trailer

Jack Daniel's is made the same way today as it was back in 1866 when 17-year old Jack Daniel established America's first distillery. The Jack Daniel's heritage will be delivered to your door with this impressive 18-wheeler decorated with official graphics from the Jack Daniel's archives. The cab is an authentic replica of a Kenworth W900, one of the greatest rigs on the road. The grille, exhausts, whip antennae, air intake canisters, fuel tanks and all 18 wheels are finished with brilliant chrome. This model is over a foot long!

Licenses J & B Scotch Tractor Trailer

In the 18th Century, just 11 years after it was founded, Justerini & Brooks was honored with the Royal Warrant Supplier of scotch whiskies to eight successive kings and queens of England, J&B is renowned for the smooth flavor that comes from maturing over 40 different malt and grain whiskies and then blending them in oak casks. Now the spirit of J&B lives on in a "billboard on wheels," a big rig decorated with J&B's famous "ingle ells" holiday advertising theme. The trailer is pulled by the authentic replica of a cab built by Kenworth, one of the world's leading big rig manufacturers. And every detail is crafted to the high standards of Matchbox Collectibles. The massive grill, towering exhausts and antennae, air intake canisters, diesel fuel tanks and all 18 wheels are finished with brilliant chrome. The rear doors of the trailer open and close. And the trailer lifts off the cab and can stand on its retractable legs.

Licenses Kings of the Road

America's great freight companies have authorized the first and only collection of its kind. Each tractor trailer is just like the one you might see on the road. They are crafted with chrome-finished exhausts, grilles, wheels, mirror and window casings, air intake canisters and diesel fuel tank. The rear doors on each trailer open and close. There's a spare tire tucked underneath. The trailer lifts off the cab and can be "parked" by itself on retractable legs. And each rig is a collector's showpiece, authentic in every detail.

McDonald's Modern Tractor Trailer

Since 1955, McDonald's has sold over 90 billion burgers throughout the world. Now, in this exciting tradition, Matchbox Collectibles commemorates the 45th anniversary of McDonald's with an 18-wheeler that delivers unmatched quality and value. It's decorated with official graphics straight from the McDonald's archives, spanning the company's 45-year history. There's the old and new restaurant...the classic sign promoting 15 cent "Speedee" hamburgers and "OVER 100 MILLION SOLD" ...and the McDonald's meal—including a Big Mac Sandwich and fries—in full color. The cab lifts up to reveal the intricate engine. And the trailer lifts off the cab and can be "parked" by itself on retractable legs—just like the 18-wheelers that supply McDonald's restaurants every day.

Peterbilt 359 Flat Bed Tractor Trailer

For three decades, the Peterbilt 359 cab has been a home away from home for the road weary trucker who appreciates this rig's built-in sleeper compartment and legendary reliability. Now, America's famed 18-wheeler transports cab components to Peterbilt's final assembly plant in Denton, Texas. The truck is crafted to capture every detail, including the chrome-finished swept-back exhaust, whip antennae, mirror casings, visors, fuel tanks, air filter canisters and the air conditioner and horns on the roof. The truck pulls an open trailer loaded with die-cast Peterbilt 359 cab shells that rest on a palette, crafted of fine resins and hand painted. And the trailer lifts off the main cab, so it can stand on its own.

Work-Horses Vintage Big Rig Cabs

In 1939, the very first Peterbilt rig was created by T.A. Peterman to haul timber out of the forests of the great north-west. In 1948, a Diamond T truck delivered materials to build homes for GI's back from the war. Now these two pioneers of long haul trucking have authorized the very first collection of early big rig replicas ever crafted at the 1:50 scale. And both are precision-engineered to capture every vintage detail—the wire hookups for the trailer and fifth wheels...the logos on the mudflaps... and the two-tone wheels.
