Käthe Kruse®

The Mercedes era began with new departures. On April 2, 1900, Emil Jellinek ordered 36 Daimler automobiles at a cost of 550,000 goldmarks – and was granted the sales rights for Austria-Hungary, France, Belgium and the United States of America. The deal was clinched on June 8, and Emil Jellinek christened his own Daimler car “Mercédès,” after his daughter. Especially the land of unlimited opportunities, the United States of America, has been an important market for the cars with the three-pointed star ever since that time, and is still gaining in importance. For this reason, the traditional company of Käthe Kruse, renowned for its lovingly hand-made dolls, adorned “Mercédès” in a sailor dress, ready for travel. The doll, of which a limited edition of 250 was made for the Mercedes-Benz Classic Collection, will conquer not only show-cases but also, and above all, hearts. What you would expect of “Mercedes.”
